

Below are two options for the policy revision the policy committee is requesting additional guidance and refinement for either or both options.

Information Displays

Since display area is very limited, the library displays very little community information. Information displayed is primarily library-related material. Acceptance of materials does not indicate that such materials will be displayed in the library. ~~Managers of departments or branches~~ Branch or department managers reserve the right to review and endorse all postings and ~~displayed materials~~ ~~remove all displayed materials~~ and removal of the postings and displayed materials. Displays, postings, bulletin boards, and exhibits; when not related to library materials, programs, events, or activities; must not present one side or one view of a controversial subject. Displays, postings, bulletin boards, and exhibits on such issues as, political views, gender identification, racial issues, or religious views should be avoided unless more than one view is represented. Questionable material is referred to the library director for final approval.

An additional section within "Information Displays" after "Bulletin Boards" section.

Featured Library Material Displays

"Featured Library Material Displays" are defined as displays of library books or other media selected from the existing library collection to increase awareness of educational or entertainment interest options within the library collection. All items in the library collection may be considered for inclusion in featured displays and thematic feature displays.

Featured displays on top of home shelf location may be managed by department managers and adjusted or refilled according to patron behaviors.

Thematic feature displays will be displayed on a rotating basis. The topics should be appropriate for the section of the library they are to be displayed in. Examples of appropriate themes include but are not limited to: Federal Holidays, historical events and periods, life long learning interests, and various fiction themes. Examples of themes which should be avoided: singular positions political in nature, singular positions on scientific theory, representation of a single religion, representation of a single political party, topics which by nature exist to promote an idea.
